Book Party
Friday, March 8, 7:00 p.m. – 9:00 p.m.

Registered conference attendees who have authored books are invited to showcase and sell their books during the Book Party. This is an excellent opportunity to interact with other authors and conference attendees and to discuss your work.

There is no setup fee required for authors to participate in the book party, but registration is required to ensure that adequate space is allotted for each author. Authors who wish to showcase their books, should register online at www.asbsci.org/bookparty.
